How we can help

Unless your charity has the correct systems in place for hygiene and safety, your organisation could face legal intervention, resulting in a time-consuming and expensive distraction from tackling the issues that your staff and supporters are committed to solving.

Choosing to rely on phs for workplace services such as waste management and washroom maintenance will not only ensure that your charity is legally compliant: it will also create a more inviting environment for your workers and visitors, helping to prevent high staff turnover and reassuring donors that their money is in safe hands.

We work with over 1,270 charities throughout the UK. As well as supplying essential products and services, our fully-accredited team can provide advice on how to keep your charity legally compliant. Our drivers are efficient and discreet, and we have representatives in every geographical area to provide what you need, when you need it.

Are you compliant?
The CQC (Care Quality Commission) inspects standards of cleanliness and hygiene in charities and care providers. Our specialists can help to ensure that your organisation has the correct measures in place.

Healthcare, washroom and floorcare hygiene is our business. We stay on top of all the legislative developments affecting your industry to provide you with expert advice on what you need to do to ensure that your business is legally compliant. We also help with practical advice on how to manage CQC audits and other regulatory requirements.

Our professional service drivers provide a discreet and efficient service, calling ahead to check that our servicing times are convenient for your business. And, if any of your products or services need change, we're just a call away and have the flexibility to adapt to whatever is needed.

We're in every geographical area and because we're Next door. Everywhere, we are on hand to help wherever you are. And as a single supplier, meeting all your needs, we can help reduce your day-to-day administration commitment as well as your financial costs.

Our charity blueprint shows the most in-demand services that we currently provide to the not-for-profit sector.

Section 34
(Environmental Protection Act 1990)
Anyone who produces, stores or disposes of waste has a duty of care to ensure that waste is managed properly.
✔ Waste must be stored safely and securely
✔ It must be prevented from causing environmental pollution or harming anyone

WE CAN HELP

Traditionally, our most in-demand services for the charity sector have included waste management, safety and washroom maintenance services. Our experts continue to meet the needs of providers in this sector with a wide range of products and services.

A better environment for staff and visitors

phs can help you improve the experience of visitors and staff who use your building. From anti-slip mats to odour-eliminating air purifiers, our products provide an affordable way to promote wellbeing within your organisation.

Regularly maintained washrooms

Poorly maintained washrooms can lead to the spread of bacteria and leave visitors with a negative impression of your organisation. Allow our fully-trained, DBS-checked washroom maintenance team to help, with regular visits to keep your facilities hygienic and topped up with consumables like soap and toilet roll.

Discreet, compliant waste disposal

Providing legally compliant storage, collection and disposal of waste is one of our key specialisms. Our fully licensed and qualified personnel will ensure effective segregation and disposal of all kinds of waste, including pharmaceutical and clinical waste.

Keep floors clean, dry and safe

Floors can quickly become dirty, due to visitors entering and leaving the building, while wet floors increase the chance of injury through slips and falls. Our specially designed mats capture dirt and moisture, improving the overall safety and appearance of your organisation.

Adhere to legislation

We will ensure that safety and hygiene at your charity is handled strictly in line with current legislation and according to best practice guidelines.
